

Our History...

My name is Jeff McCarron, and I own and operate Mark IV Miniatures. I have been involved in wargaming for 36 years. My father, James McCarron founded Stone Mountain Military Miniatures in 1976 to provide high quality, original American Civil War miniatures to wargamers. I began helping him operate his business when I was 10 years old. In high school, my passion for wargaming, modeling, and painting increased. In 1994, my dad sold Stone Mountain Miniatures and started Musket Miniatures, which he still operates. I accepted a partnership with him in 1995 and I worked full time with him until 2005. The experience I gained at Musket Miniatures taught me a lot about the gaming industry, and gave me the desire to operate my own business in the future.

During my time with Musket Miniatures, I developed four lines of resin miniatures. I designed the 15mm WWII Eastern Front "Fury on the Steppes" line of removable roof buildings. I also developed the 15mm WWII Western Front "Push for the Rhine" line of buildings. Further, I developed Musket Miniatures' WWII terrain feature line. I also developed a line of 10mm Eastern Front buildings. These products have proven to be best sellers for Musket Miniatures! I was given full legal ownership of the above lines at the end of 2009.

Musket Miniatures has continued to offer the above lines for retail sale until January 2012. Mark IV is now the exclusive manufacturer of these products, and I now wholesale to Musket Miniatures.

The Present...

I am proud of my relationship with Musket Miniatures. My dad and I took great satisfaction in our fast, responsive, honest and fair way of conducting business. I promise you, the Mark IV Miniatures customer, the same exemplary customer service and high quality products that you have come to expect from Musket Miniatures! Our product guarantee: If you are not completely satisfied with any Mark IV Miniatures product, simply return it in original, re-sellable condition, and we will either refund the purchase price, or replace the item with another item. You can buy from Mark IV Miniatures with confidence!

The Future...

I promise to continue to bring original, exciting buildings and terrain products to market in both 15mm and 10mm scale. If you have product ideas, please send me an e-mail with descriptive photos and I will consider the project as long as it fits into the themes of our current product lines.
